| Arizona Piano Institute Summer Festival       | Phoenix CollegePhoenix, AZ                     | 1 week       | $       | https://www.azpianoinstitute.org/api-summer-festival               | Open to pianists between the age of 8 and 21. Festival season opens with a Faculty Artist Concert featuring inspiring performances by our internationally acclaimed faculty. Participants then engage in a week of enriching master classes and workshops on a variety of topics helpful to emerging pianists, including performance practice, theory, sight-reading, improvisation, and more. The festival closes with a celebration of talent and artistry in the Student Showcase Recital. Every day is an opportunity to perform and learn from world renowned artists and teachers; study new approaches to piano performance; learn something new about music, composers, and styles; and engage with like-minded peers who share your passion for the piano. Important Note: API Summer Festival tuition does not include lodging or meals. Students attending from outside the Phoenix-metro area are responsible for their own lodging, food and travel. Students attending from outside the Phoenix-metro area who are under the age of 18 must be accompanied by a parent or guardian when not in attendance at the festival event. |

Alan Pearcemalanpearce@gmail.comhttp://www.malanpearce.com/ | The Chamber Music Academy will focus the development of students' abilities in the nuances of nonverbal communication through body language, musical tone, and breath in the chamber music setting, with particular emphasis on musicality and rhythmic cueing skills. Such issues as choreography, counting, plus knowing where the music builds or gets softer, and how this relates to breathing and cues, will be explored in depth to help develop the student's mastery of non-verbal musical communication. Appropriate exercises will be implemented such as: practicing eye contact at musical entrances, choreographing bodily cues (in tandem with rhythmic breathing) for better ensemble connectivity, as well as learning the micro/macro approach to the musical work as a whole: in other words, how everyone's role individually contributes to the big picture of the harmonized ensemble. |
